Welcome to The Comet Newsletter #5!

NOTICE: All guests must properly wear a mask when in The Comet, unless at your lane or dining at a table.

Those who refuse to wear a mask will be asked to leave the premises. Thank you for your cooperation.

Alert: The Comet will be closed for a private engagement from 5/02 through 5/08. We do apologize for the inconvenience. Week 16 of league has been pushed to the following week.

New in April

As you may have noticed, we've been operating with a reduced menu for the last few weeks. We are almost fully-staffed again in the kitchen, and we anticipate the return of pizzas and calzones to the menu in the near future. Thank you for your patience.

Speaking of staff, The Comet is hiring, for both front and back of house. Know somebody with bartending experience? Somebody who's worked in a pizza kitchen? A customer service whiz? Send them our way!

League News

Winter Leagues are entering the homestretch of the season. We've got tight races in both Wed and Thurs leagues. As suggested by a number of leaguers, we will conduct a Wed vs. Thurs competition after the regular season is over, One new twist this season – each week we recognize a team in each league as Team-of-the-Week.

That team guides the musical playlist for the night, and receives a pitcher of Tropicalia IPA and a large pizza, care of league sponsor Creature Comforts Brewing Co.

Want to get in on the fun? Summer leagues will begin in early June. As usual, let Uri know if you have any questions about leagues – uri@cometpubandlanes.com.

On the horizon . . .

So we're into the second year of dealing with a worldwide viral invasion. It's like a bad movie, but we are living it.

Thank goodness more and more people are getting vaccinated; we all hope that before too long, covid will be under control and we'll be able to gather and interact with one another, even strangers, without the overriding fear of infection. At The Comet, we're cautiously planning for the time we can reopen those odd-numbered lanes that have been vacant for 13 months now. Rich has been working his way down from lane 31, tuning up the pinsetters for a return to full house bowling. When will that be? We've learned to be humble about making predictions, so we'll just say we're not there yet.

Our rules and guidelines about wearing masks, social distancing, and cleaning remain in place. Thank you for your continued diligence, and your support throughout these difficult times.

And once again, we remain so grateful for The Comet staff for everything they do. It's not easy being a service industry professional in the best of times.

That's all for now. We're almost there. Have a great April!

Cheers, peace, and be well.
